

Team Lead Product Design- Berlin

Team Lead Product Design

salary: Up to 75k

Language: english

nice to have: german

Permanent employee, Full-time · Berlin-Charlottenburg

Your role

Through design you will uphold the balance of product delivery pushing boundaries to make the company more customer centric

You will lead a team of UX designers and researchers, working across web and mobile products

Furthermore, you will coach and develop UX design to deliver and uphold the customer experience across multiple Agile teams

Connecting closely with Product Management, Engineering and other stakeholders is required for you to drive business goals and execute projects/features

You embed the value of process to identify customer needs and advocate for them — of course while balancing business needs — to push for a great user experience

Together with the Head of Product you help shape and drive product strategy and vision

You make sure the team can ship design work ready for agile delivery

You rely on lean user-centered design techniques and are an advocate for the mobile first approach

Requirements

You have at least three years of experience in delivering design in an agile environment

You have a track record of delivering mobile and preferable-commerce experience (exposure to consumer-facing / transactional sites work too), ideally in a high-growth environment

Additionally, you have already developed employees or colleagues successfully, as a mentor or as a leader

You have a process-driven mindset, you believe that a transparent, reliable process is part of the key to great design work

You can confidently articulate your decisions, explain your ideas clearly and gain buy-in with stakeholders in English, ideally also in German

To get the best out of your team, you use your strong passion for coaching and mentorship, you excel in helping others grow, providing support and advocating for your team members

You have experience in developing or contributing to strategic design and user research

Also, you bring a deep understanding of the application of design systems and appreciation of the tools which support that
